

Блогу год! Полет нормальный!

Hi guys! For more than one year already I've been keeping my blog. On the 6th of September 2013 the first article was published. To be honest it's pretty strange for me to keep doing something during a long period of time. I've never had any certain hobbies in my life. But it turned out that keeping a personal blog is a very interesting thing. Especially if you're interested in its subject. Actually, you must be interested in what you're writing about. Because if you're not you'll lose the enthusiasm very soon.

And I'm happy that I'm still interested in learning English and keeping in touch with you my friends! I'm so glad that you find my articles interesting and useful. By this moment I have 813 subscribers and I think that this is a very good result! I'm glad to see that the same people are coming back to my blog to read my new posts! I got many good feedbacks about my project! Thank you my friends so much! It's very important for me and I appreciate it!

Were all my articles good? Far from it! But anyway, writing a new post I'm always thinking about my audience. I'm always trying to make a useful article that would be interesting for my readers. Sometimes I make it, sometimes I don't. I hope you're not angry with me for it.

Now just numbers:

- Age of the blog — 365 days.
- Total number of the articles — 161.
- Visitors per a day — 500÷600.
- Maximum visitors — 616.
- Subscribers — 813.

It's pretty good results for me as for a man who is not a web-master at all. The most important thing for any blog is useful content. If your writing is interesting people will come back to your blog. It's a key to success. At least I think so.

What are my plans for the future? They're simple. I'm going to keep improving my website and helping you to learn English writing interesting and useful articles in two languages. Also I'll share with you some interesting moments from my life, because my blog is kind of my online diary. And of course I'll keep giving gifts to you my friends!

I'd like to see 1000 visitors in the counter in the bottom of the website someday. It would be awesome! I have the object and I go for it. So I think that everything's going to be good.

That's all I wanted to share with you guys! Thank you once again for being with me all this year and for your interest to my project!

Keep learning English and take care!
