

Как читать книги на английском

Hello, dear guest! This time I'd like to tell you about reading in English. This is a very good way to improve your vocabulary. Also it makes your speaking skill better. When you read a book in English, you learn to think in English. You memorise new phrases, they leaves in your head and then you can use it in your speech. More over, when you read a lot, it helps you to speak more fluently. So, reading it's very useful. But how to read in English properly? What books should you choose? I'll tell you about how I do it.

The first an important moment is your level. You should choose books which are not so difficult for you. Don't read hard classic literature, when you just start to learn English. It's not going to be easy and useful. A very good variant is reading of adapt books. What is it? So, it's the same classic books, but more easy variant of them. There are many good authors, who adapt difficult books special for your level. In Russia for example, there is such a publishing house called «English club». It publishes more easy copies of classic literature. I like it and always read their books. It helped me a lot!

But don't forget, you shouldn't read too easy books as well. How to understand if a book fits you or not? So if you can understand 85-90% of it then it's for you. Keep reading and when you can understand 100%, go higher and choose something more difficult. 85-90% it's exactly what you need. This way you improve your English very well! Keep it in mind.

When you read, try to understand the sense of a page. Don't try to understand the each word, it's very bad. And the same when you speak, try to understand a sense of your partner's phrases. It's the whole point! This way you improve your English!

As for me, I read books the following way:

1. Like I said, in first I try to understand a sense of sentences, and if I get 85-90% I go on to read a book. If I don't, I choose something easier.
2. Then I read the book one time without a dictionary. Then I read it one more time and I use a dictionary and try to remember new words.
3. And the third time I read the book without a dictionary once again!

It's a really good way to improve your language! After I've read several books I could see an improvement!

So try it. And don't think that I read some long long novels. No, I like to read short and interesting stories. But you can read what you want of course.

I'd like you to read a lot, guys. Because it's one of the best way to make your English better and start to speak faster!
