The basic difference between the standard of living and quality of life lies in the individual preferences. I mean the standard of living is equal for all people, whereas the quality of life depends mostly on personal preferences.

(3) Can money buy quality of life? - Могут ли деньги купить качество жизни?

As I said, money is an essential part of our life. There is a good saying "I don't want to have a lot of money, I just want to have enough". I think it's true.

(4) What do you think is more important, quality or longevity of life? - Как вы думаете, что важнее, качество или продолжительность жизни?

I think both are important. I can't say which one is more important. I would like to have a good quality of life and live long enough.

(5) How would you describe your quality of life compared to your parents? - Как бы вы описали качество своей жизни по сравнению с жизнью своих родителей?

Now my parents and I have a good quality of life. It's hard to compare, because quality of life depends quite a lot on personal preferences. We have different visions of life.

Students don't usually earn enough, because they still study. So from this point of view, a worker has a better quality of life.

Absolutely! We are more happy when we think positive and don't get nervous too much. So state of mind is definitely important!
